

All,

Central Coast Zymurgeeks had a couple of cool things go on this month and are planning for another good meeting this wednesday.

Last week, in a two page spread in the Santa Cruz Sentinel, our own Dave Bossie was prominently featured in an article about beer snobery :)...In actuality it was an article which congratulated Dave on winning the Homebrew to Probrew contest at Santa Cruz Mountain Brewing (narrowly beating out yours truly) and educating the author of the article on the fine art of beer. Let's all congratulate Dave on his victory and his excellent article. It can be found online here:

Additionally, CCZ teamed up with the Santa Cruz Fungus Federation for a wonderful party at Phil Carpenter's home. Many wonderful foods and beers were enjoyed by all, and I was treated to some mushrooms from Phil's property to take home to cook.

Onward to the upcoming meeting, at Mark Crain's home this weekend. We will be discussing the software "Promash" and, of course, enjoying beer. Business meeting starts at 1pm and the general meeting begins at 2pm. The directions can be found at the CCZ website here:

I will be bringing my laptop with a full version of the software on it for everyone to play with.

Hope to see you all there, and Relax! Don't worry, have a hombrew.

Chris
